

NORTHERN VIRGINIA GEOGRAPHIC ALLIANCE
and
THE GMU DEPARTMENT OF GEOGRAPHY
Invites You to its
SPRING WORKSHOP 2009
"Examining the Middle East"

Come learn from Middle East Experts on strategies to teach your students about the Middle East

Come explore the Middle East using Google Earth with: The Middle East Policy Council Education/
Curriculum Director

Come receive a wide array of free classroom resources for your class

This workshop is a MUST! One that you don't want to MISS! It is for YOU!

This workshop is open to all K-12 teachers, social studies teachers, principals, directors and other educators interested in learning the best practices on the Middle East. If you have attended before, you have firsthand knowledge of the quality of our workshops. If you haven't attended this is one that you do not want to miss. Attendees will receive seven hours of re-certification points. Free continental breakfast and lunch will be provided.

Date: March 28, 2009

Time: 9:00 - 4:30

Location: George Mason University main campus, Fairfax, Virginia
Johnson Center, (room TBA)

TO SIGN UP: PLEASE CONTACT DR. LILLIE VINSON AT:

lmvinson@fcps.edu or lillie.vinson@verizon.net

Phone: (301.292.2560) home or (703.329.2100) ex: 2112 work

NOTE: FREE lunch and materials are included but we need a headcount.